BUSINESS PROCLAMATION EDITION SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE

The Republican Will Send All Over the Country the Story of Hartford's and Ohio County's Wonderful Advantages and Undeveloped Resources

WILL REFLECT IN MANY WAYS THE FUTURE PROSPERITY OF THE CITY AND COUNTY

Edition Will Be a Monster One and Will Be Circulated in Every Direction to Advertise Hartford and Ohio County

It has always been the policy of The Republican to "Boost" Hartford and Ohio County in every manner possible, and in keeping with this rule we have secured the services of James M. Ross—one of the oldest and most favorable known men in his line in the country—for the purpose of issuing an Industrial, Illustrated, Historical edition of Hartford and Ohio County.

The purpose of this edition will be to set forth, as concisely as possible, the resources of Ohio County, and the advantages of Hartford for the manufacturer, investor and homeseeker.

A great many people look upon the cities of our country today as they did fifteen or twenty years ago, and take no time to investigate the present situation, and claims.

TO ADVERTISE THE CITY.

Therefore the object of this edition will be to advertise Hartford and Ohio County abroad, to send throughout the country a truthful account of the advantages which Hartford and Ohio County have to offer.

Thousands of copies will be mailed, covering boards of trade, business men's associations, commercial clubs, public libraries, etc., in the country. Out of this distribution we have every reason to believe that a certain per cent. of those reached will be interested in the country described, and out of this per cent. we feel assured that Hartford and Ohio County will draw new enterprises and receive new citizens.

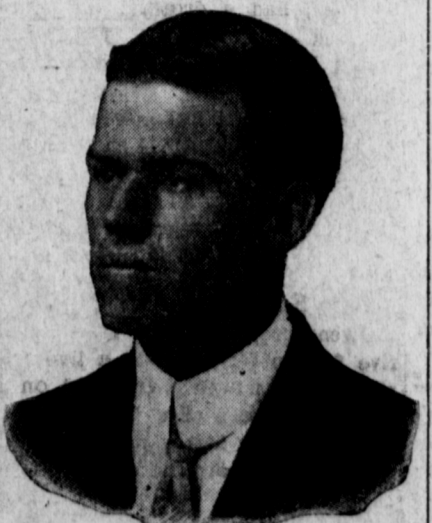

No expense will be spared in making this the handsomest and most comprehensive edition ever issued in Kentucky, and we bespeak for the liberal and hearty support of everybody who has any pride in Hartford and Ohio County.

ant was consolidated with Atabaska Tribe last April, and the consolidated papers are out now for Hartford Tribe to be consolidated with Atabaska. In the entire four years only two members have been lost by Atabaska Tribe by death, they being Lewis Johnson and G. D. Gilstrap. Great Keeper of Wampum Stratton has the enviable record of instituting seventeen new tribes and rekindling two. The present officers are well on to their positions and look after the interests of the tribe in the best possible manner.

The present officers are: Prophet, Oscar Borah. Sachem, Dr. Oscar Allen. Sr. Sagamore, Roscoe James. Jr. Sagamore, Cortland M. Taylor.

Mark Twain Left Nearly $500,000.

New York, July 17.—Mark Twain left actual property worth $471,136. An appraisal of his estate, filed with the Surrogate today, places this value on securities and real estate the humorist bequeathed to his only surviving child, Mrs. Gabriellowsky, when he died on April 21, 1910.

Mr. Clemens left no real estate in New York. The value of his personal estate here was $296,746. This does not include a trunk full of manuscripts, the value of which is not specified in the appraisal. The largest item in this schedule is 50 shares of the Mark Twain Company, valued at $200,000.

Of Judge O'Rear for Governor.

Full Text of Remarkable Address to Republican State Convention.

Amid the wildest enthusiasm Edward Clay O'Rear, of Montgomery County, was nominated by the Republicans of Kentucky last week as their standard bearer in the campaign of 1911. Not a voice was raised in protest and not a hand was lifted to stem the tide that made the distinguished jurist his party's nominee for Governor. The nomination was made in an O'Rear convention, a convention in which O'Rear alone was supreme.

The nomination for Governor was made without the firing of a gun. There was not even a skirmish, or anything that resembled one. Then followed his speech of acceptance. It was just such a speech as one would expect from a man like Judge O'Rear. Hitting out from the shoulder, the force of each blow resounding through the hall, he called a spade a spade, and he called the enemies of the people the people's enemies. He centered his fire on the "Third House," and the grater in politics an aim was unerring. Every shot hit home and when he flayed his enemies the big audience shouted with delight.

The utterances of the noted jurist brought the convention to its feet and caused more cheering than has been heard in many a day in the vicinity of Phoenix Hill, where the meeting was held.

His address in full was as follows:

JUDGE O'REAR'S GREAT SPEECH.

It is a great privilege to be received in this manner by the representatives of two hundred and thirty-seven thousand Republicans of Kentucky, and to be introduced to this audience by my friend, the Senator, who, in my judgment, is the greatest living Kentuckian. I am proud to say of him, furthermore, that despite the machinations of the lobby, here is one Senator from Kentucky on whose title there is no stain, and on whose record there is no blot.

Had this nomination come alone from this convention of representative Kentuckians, it would have been a great honor, but my commission was given last Saturday by the people. The county conventions were remarkable in that they were most largely attended of any held by the Republican party in Kentucky in its history.

It is a significant fact that in these conventions the attendance was greater in the aggregate than the total Democratic vote cast in the State primary of that party on the preceding Saturday. This interest of the people evinced the purpose to settle the questions of the pending campaign in Kentucky so far as they were concerned in such an emphatic manner that no doubt could be left concerning their purpose.

WHY HE BECAME A CANDIDATE.

Holding an office now of power and dignity, conferred by the unanimous voice of a great constituency, I was loath to enter the political arena. My office was one that appealed peculiarly to my taste. There is yet left of the present term about five and one-half years.

The insistence of the public that I should become a candidate for the office of Governor was such that I felt that I could not honorably decline it; hence I became a candidate. I announced the policies upon which that candidacy was pitched, and from that time until now they have been pressed upon public attention.

The response in the county conventions is significant in that it indicates the popular interests as well as the popular approval of them. I declared in the beginning of the canvass, and repeat it now, that I would not run on any kind of a platform, but that the platform must be one representing progressive State policies, dealing with the questions of the day and tending to cleaner and better State government.

I, indeed, am glad that the gentleman who resented my name to this coveted, my friend, Senator Buram, laid more stress upon the policies for which I have stood in this campaign than upon personal eulogy. That is as it should have been.

CONTEST HAS BEEN VICIOUS.

You will witness that this contest has been a bitter one; that those interests whose baneful influence has been systematically exerted upon the Legislature of Kentucky for the last twenty-five years were aroused by the attacks made upon their supposed security. They were alarmed at the prospect of being dethroned. They were unwilling to yield their approval of the domination of the policies of Kentucky. Hence they fought, and fought bitterly.

They aligned in anti-O'Rear clubs and adopted the slogan of "Anything to Beat O'Rear." They adopted their familiar and hitherto successful tactics of corrupting selections by endeavoring to corrupt the county conventions in Kentucky. They lost overwhelmingly and their defeat is a tribute to the virtue and the patriotism of Kentucky Republicans.

It has so long been customary for such interests to get behind the candidacy of respectable and even deserving gentlemen, and as a matter of course, it was applied in this instance also.

Notwithstanding the overwhelming majority indicated in the returns favoring this nomination, they have not quit the fight. They are still present in this convention, intending, if possible to attempt by old and familiar practices to produce by indirection what they could not otherwise maintain.

The liquor interest must not control the Legislature of this State.

NOMINEE FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR.

Now, I want to say to this convention that you should nominate a candidate for Lieutenant Governor on this ticket who is consistent in his belief and character with the head of the ticket. One who sincerely believes in the principles declared in your platform. We cannot compromise. I do not name a candidate for this office, but I urge that no man should be named whom the liquor lobby is for.

The liquor question involved in this campaign is not whether there shall be State-wide prohibition, nor is it to out-law the liquor business as such. It is, shall the Constitution prevail as to this business; and shall the lobby maintained by the brewers and certain other liquor interests and their allies be compelled to take their hands out of the policies of Kentucky LAW AND ORDER IN KENTUCKY.

Among the methods employed to discredit the fight being made upon corruption in policies and the legislation in this State, it has been asserted by the enemies of my candidacy that I was in sympathy with the lawlessness which recently beset Kentucky for a season. Let me state my position:

I concur heartily and unreservedly in the expression in the platform on the subject of lawlessness and mob-violence. There can be no compromise with crime; there can be no compromise with a mob with anarchy, whether rampant or incipient. If I am elected Governor of Kentucky law and order will be maintained.

Should a mob arise it will be suppressed with the power of the law. A means afforded by law will be used to the utmost to prevent a mob, and those engaged in it shall, if possible be apprehended and brought to the bar of justice to be dealt with by the courts of the land.

But I would not stop the matter there. I am in favor of going further back to discover the cause of disorder in Kentucky, and to remove that cause. If it should be found that the trusts, which have fattened off the poor and been made richer by the well-to-do, taking tribute from all in Kentucky, are back of these disorders, then this cause must also be treated under the laws of criminality and must be punished with as much severity and certainty as the disorders which it produces.

A HARD FIGHT AHEAD.

I heartily endorse every provision of your platform. Eloquent gentlemen who have spoke before me in this convention have drawn a bright picture of prospects in November. Do not be deceived by the exuberance of this occasion. The interests so firmly entrenched in Kentucky will not yield without another bitter fight.

I wish I could paint the mysteries of the future before our eyes, but I cannot. I merely know that behind me are strong and determined people; before me a plain and sacred duty; the issue is with God. The people are in earnest. They are aroused. Their institutions are in danger. Their courage, I am sure, will be equal to the demands of the hour.

It is customary on such occasions to express gratitude for the honor conferred in such a nomination as this. I am unable to express to you the sense of obligation which I feel to you for this honor, and the solemn duty imposed upon me, and much more am I unable to express my gratitude to the great constituency which sent you here.

It can only be expressed by a campaign in keeping with the responsibilities imposed by the great issues before the State, and, if elected to this high office by the people, by a faithful and exact execution of the pledge which you and I this day give them.

HISTORY OF ATABASKA TRIBE.

No tribe of the Improved Order of Red Men in the Reservation of Kentucky has made a more phenomenal growth in proportion to the population of the county than has Atabaska Tribe No. 256, of Cromwell.

On May 9, 1907 this Tribe was organized by T. Wade Stratton, who at that time was a member of Ohio Tribe 188, of Hartford. The lodge was instituted by A. C. Yelser, of Hartford, with twenty-one charter members as follows:

Shelby Cole, R. D. Douglas, J. H. Fleser, Clarence Amos, W. A. Wallace, Oscar Borah, Leslie Borah, James Shepherd, Estill Martin, Noah Cooper, C. W. Wallace, C. D. Havens, W. H. Daniel, T. C. Stratton, J. E. Porter, Ben Dunn, Elvis Burden, Oscar Allen, T. Wade Stratton, Warren Shields and N. H. Embury.

The first officers elected at the institution of Atabaska Tribe were: Prophet, T. Wade Stratton. Sachem, Warren Shields. Sr. Sagamore, O. C. Amos. Jr. Sagamore, Harrison Fleser. C. of R., Dr. Oscar Allen. K. of W., S. J. Dunn. C. of W. Charles Stevens.

When the Tribe was first organized there were many difficulties that confronted the charter members, but they put their shoulders to the wheel and all worked together, and today they have a strong lodge in membership, and a fine financial backing and money in the wampum belt all the time.

At the last session of the Great Council of Kentucky, which was held at Owensboro last May this Tribe was signally honored when Past Sachem T. Wade Stratton was elected as Great Keeper of Wampum of Kentucky, in the face of great opposition. Also at the same Past Sachem Roscoe Pirtle, of Atabaska Haymakers Lodge, No. 256 1-2 was elected as Guard of the Loft of the Haymakers Council of Kentucky.

The Republicans will not attempt to institute a campaign of abuse in the coming State contest. If they cannot win on their own merits, they will not attempt to win on demerits of their opponents. They have placed in the field a ticket upon a platform, one of the best ever written by any State convention, and the good citizens of the State are invited to support the ticket and platform. It is the only platform in the field, and the only one likely to be in the field. It deals with State issues almost exclusively and calls for reforms which the people are demanding. Let the procession move on. They will have a happy time placing "O'Rear in the rear." He is going to be in the front and the only way our Democratic friends will keep in sight of him will be to put up something equally as good or better.

The Democratic press of Kentucky is very much excited over the compliment which Judge O'Rear paid to Senator Bradley last week when he was presented to the State Convention as the nominee for Governor, because he referred to Bradley as one Senator upon whose title there is no stain and on whose record there is no blot. Well, if these Democratic papers know of any stain or blot upon the Senator's record, they should at once proceed to make it known. They are doing the State a very great injustice to withhold any information along this line which they may have in their possessions. But mere insinuations are sometimes just as slanderous as false charges and place those who utter them in a more disgraceful and disreputable light than the worst blackmailer or assassin of character to be found in the country.

Ohio County Republicans were all disappointed that Senator Alvis S. Bennett was not nominated for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, in the convention at Louisville, last week. Mr. Bennett could have had the nomination had he become an active candidate for it, which he declined to do on account of his present position as Secretary of the State Central Committee. In any event it is thought by his friends that he would have received the nomination by a close vote, had he remained in the contest. He withdrew in the interest of harmony, and not because he was defeated by any "rolling machine" as is charged by our local contemporary. No man stands higher among the Republicans of all sections in Kentucky, that Senator Bennett, and he stands higher to day than before in their estimation. No one realizes more than he the awkward position in which he was placed as a contestant for a place on the ticket because he held a position with the party machinery, and a position which he felt he could not very well resign to make a contest openly for a place on the ticket.

A drowning man will even catch at a straw. Witness the desperate efforts made by the Courier-Journal and other Democratic newspapers through out Kentucky to discredit the Republican State ticket because it was nominated at Phoenix Hill Park, near a beer garden, which place was furnished by the citizens of Louisville, and was the only hall available in the city in which a convention of such size could be held. Right thinking citizens of Louisville should place a muzzle on the editor of the Courier-Journal, not especially for the benefit of the Republican party of the State, but for the benefit of the city. The delegates were invited guests of the city during the late convention and the place of meeting was selected by representatives of the city and not by the Republican State Committee or the delegates to the State convention. Aside from this however, if the Republicans of Kentucky can hold a convention in a beer garden and promulgate such sentiments as were contained in its State platform, backed up by utterances as came from the lips of the Standard Bearer in his speech of acceptance, on the liquor question, it should be a compliment mountain high to the integrity of its delegates.

The Republican State Convention at Louisville, last week nominated one of the strongest tickets ever presented to the people of any State, and it will command the respect of men of all parties. It was nominated in a fair and open manner and ever man had a fair opportunity in the contest. Of course there are necessarily some disappointed ones, but that is to be expected, because someone necessarily had to be defeated. But there is no chance of fraud or of improper practices which can be sustained against the convention. In almost every instance the strongest man won out, either by reason of a more active canvass before the convention, or because of pre-eminent qualifications and strength with the delegates. The charge that O'Rear, or his friends made up a slate to put through the convention is absolutely untrue. The only suggestion that Judge O'Rear made was that someone should be nominated for Lieutenant Governor who was known to be in harmony with the platform on the local option question. An effort was made to place some one on the ticket who was not known to be in accord with Judge O'Rear, but the scheme was defeated. However, no one in Kentucky is especially taking this to heart except certain Democratic newspapers who pretend to be very much distressed over the defeat of certain individuals before the convention. However, Republicans generally may rest assured that the same dish of sympathy, from the same source, would have been handed out to the present members of the ticket had they been defeated.

OUR BIRTHDAY.

With this issue The Republican enters upon its twenty-fourth year as a newspaper of Hartford. We heartily appreciate the support that has been given this publication and assure our friends that by strict business methods and the best treatment we can command we shall be glad to receive your further support and cooperation.

Company H, the local company of militia, left this morning at 12:30 under command of Capt. James M. DeWeese and Lieut. C. B. IS AGAINST WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Noted Woman Writer Gives Her Views.

Woman Voter is Jointly Responsible With Husband for the Support of Family.

(By Molly Elliot Seawall.)

There are two basic principles against woman suffrage.

First, no electorate have ever existed, or ever can exist, which cannot execute its own laws.

Second, no voter ever claimed or ever can claim, maintenance from another voter.

Law consists of a series of "Thou-shalt-nots," but government does not result until an armed man stands ready to execute the law. Suffragists claim that the moral forces ought to supplant mere physical force. But the law is made for the law-breaker, who always uses physical force.

A dozen ruffians could prevent a hundred women from depositing a single ballot. Supposing the ballots, however, deposited by the indulgence of men, women will surely be called upon to legislate upon subjects of which no woman has ever had, or ever can have practical experience.

The entire execution of the law would be in the hands of men, backed up by an irresponsible electorate which could not lift a finger to apprehend or punish a criminal.

The relation between voting and maintenance is based upon the principle that no voter shall be compelled to maintain any person who has a vote which may be cast against his benefactor. No principle of government is worked out with more mathematical exactitude. On attaining his majority a man loses all claim to maintenance as long as he is a voter. If he should become a pauper he at once loses his vote.

The suffragist claim that a wife renders services to her husband, which entitles her to maintenance is not sound. Maintenance has nothing to do with service. A wife may be paralyzed within an hour of her marriage. She is, however, just as much entitled to maintenance as if she slaved for forty years for a husband and fourteen children. She may become insane, but her husband is still bound to maintain her, nor can he get a divorce from her on the grounds of her insanity and inability to perform any service. A wife's maintenance is her equivalent for a vote.

The fact that in the suffrage States women have been deprived of enormous property privileges proves that the principle is working. In Colorado Utah, Idaho and Wyoming a wife has no dower. She is jointly responsible for the support of the children. The homestead may be mortgaged or sold without her consent. Non-support of a husband is a ground for divorce. Six women in Utah were divorced by their husbands for non-support.

The phrase "taxation without representation is tyranny" was never meant, or taken in the sense that the payment of taxes carries with it a vote.

Taxation, in its inception, meant protection. Property owners paid to have their property protected. The property is taxed, not the individual. Nobody has proposed that the property of miners be exempt. The idea that taxation carries with it a vote is peculiarly ludicrous when employed by suffragists from the South. If no one should be taxed who has not a vote, then ten million negroes should be exempt from taxation; also all lunatics, minors, and criminals, all inhabitants of territories and the District of Columbia. The million or more foreigners added annually to our population would be exempt for at least five years. If Carnegie, Rockefeller and Morgan should choose to become aliens, they would be exempt.

ANTI-SUFFRAGISMS.

Perhaps the Supreme Being made a ridiculous blunder in creating sex, but it is now too late to remedy it.

Woman suffrage is so advantageous to men, in relieving them of responsibilities and endowing them with property at the expense of their wives, that it is a wonder all men are not in favor of it.

If voting be a natural right, not only women, but children may vote, for a natural right is acquired at birth and lasts till death.

The Supreme Court of the United States has decided that voting is not a moral right, but a privilege.

Government exist by a consent of a majority of the governed. Here is a small but very dangerous minority

Texas Woman Near Death.

Wills Point, Tex.—In a letter from Wills Point, Mrs. Victoria Stallings says: "I was afflicted with womanly troubles, had a dreadful cough, and suffered awful pain. I certainly would have died if I had not been relieved by taking Cardui. Now I am stronger and in better health, than I ever was in my life. I can't say half enough for this medicine." Do you need relief? Cardui will help you. Try it for your womanly troubles. Its age is its guarantee. It cures B-10

Snake on Awning.

Owensboro, Ky., July 18.—A snake five feet in length, with a live sparrow in its mouth was found on an awning in front of a business house in Main street last night. The snake attracted an enormous crowd of spectators before it was captured and killed.

E. P. BARNES & BROS. BEAVER DAM, KENTUCKY.

Platform Adopted by Republican Convention.

The Republican party in Kentucky, in convention assembled, adopted the following platform.

First—We recognize the high character and ability and the distinguished public services of President Taft, and cordially endorse his administration and unreservedly endorse him for re-nomination in 1912. We heartily commend our Republican Senator and Representative in Congress for the assistance they have given to the National Administration.

Second—We approve and endorse the Republican administration of the affairs of the state, and approve and endorse all means employed by that administration for the preservation of law and order and favor the passage of such additional laws as may be necessary for that purpose.

Third—We arraign the Democratic party of Kentucky not only for its failure to comply with, but for its flagrant violation of the laws of the United States requiring the apportionment of congressional districts and of the constitution of the State directing the appointment of judicial, senatorial and legislative districts. We denounce the present apportionment as unjust and unconstitutional and many instances a denial of equal representation of people in different sections of the State. We demand that equal representation shall be given to all the people of the State, and that the rights of all shall be protected by a just and fair apportionment law.

Fourth—We demand the reform of the election laws for the purpose of securing fair and free elections; the repeal of the law which provides for registration certificates and makes them a commodity in the local market; the passage of a corrupt practice act which shall limit the size of campaign funds in both primary and regular elections and provide for complete publicity in respect thereto, both before and after elections; an effective prohibition of campaign contributions by corporations and for bi-partisan control of elections.

Fifth—We demand the passage of a law providing for compulsory direct primary elections by the leading parties, held by the State, at the expense of the State, and with severe penalties for any infraction of the law.

Sixth—We favor an amendment to the State law permitting and encouraging joint nominations of the same candidate by different parties.

Seventh—The judiciary of the State, in both the Circuit and Appellate courts, should be chosen on non-partisan grounds, and a continuance in office of faithful judicial public servants be determined by no other qualification than fitness.

Eighth—We demand the compliance with the plain requirement of the Constitution by the enacting of a uniform local option law, with the county as the governing unit.

Ninth—The first duty of the State is to provide for the education of all its children. While we favor the present law prohibiting mixed schools, we nevertheless favor granting of equal educational privileges to the children of both races. We demand that the public schools of the State shall be taken and kept entirely out of politics, and that the interest and welfare of the children shall have first consideration in all school matters. We call for better schools and schoolhouses, for longer terms in the country and for better pay for the teachers, and that all elections for School Trustees be had on different days from other elections. We favor separate training schools in every county in the State for both races, and we favor compulsory attendance of children of school age.

Tenth—We unqualifiedly condemn and denounce the "Third House," all corrupt lobbying and improper methods used to influence legislation, and we demand that such a law be passed as will provide adequate punishment for such practices, and, if this cannot be otherwise accomplished, we favor such measures as will place more directly in the hands of the people the power to correct this evil.

Eleventh—We favor the creation of a commission and effective public utilities commission or the grant to the Railroad Commission of the power to regulate such utilities.

Twelfth—We demand the enactment of a law providing for bipartisan control of penal and charitable institutions and for the abolition of contract convict labor; and we denounce the Board of Prison Commissioners in hiding out the children under their charge at the reform school, for the benefit of whose morals and education that institution was originally established.

Thirteenth—We favor the adoption of an amendment to the Federal Constitution providing for the election of United States Senators by the direct vote of the people.

Fourteenth—We favor a uniform system of accounting in public offices, and the abolition of all useless offices.

Fifteenth—We oppose double taxation and favor a thorough revision of the tax laws which will equally distribute the burdens of taxation, reduce the rate, and not only retain the capital now invested but invite the investment of other capital in the State. We favor the submission to the people of a constitutional amendment enlarging the power of the General Assembly in the matter of taxation, and when such additional law is passed, to make it effectual only when submitted to and approved by a majority of the people who vote up on the same. We favor such regulation by law as will consolidate assessment and collection of the taxes so that the cost of collection may be materially reduced. We recognize the obligation the State is under to the disinterested men who have given their time and attention and of their means to the investigation and consideration of the question of the revenue laws of the State.

Sixteenth—We favor the adoption of a just and conservative law providing for the arbitration of labor disputes.

Seventeenth—We favor the passage of laws which shall make effective the constitutional provision against the issuance of free passes to officials and their families.

Eighteenth—We favor the adoption of legislation to make effective the constitution amendment in favor of good roads.

Nineteenth—We favor the passage of a law providing for the thorough and effective inspection of State banks.

Twentieth—We favor further legislation for the protection of miners from unnecessary bodily injury.

Twenty-first—We demand that American citizens abroad, whether native born or naturalized, and of whatever race or creed, shall be secure in the enjoyment of all rights and privileges provided by our treaties.

Twenty-second—We favor the enactment of a law to punish the white slave traffic in the State.

Twenty-third—We denounce lynchings and mobs of every character and favor the passage of a law that will punish by fine, imprisonment and summary removal from office any peace officer who fails to protect a prisoner in his custody.

We hereby appeal to all citizens of this Commonwealth, irrespective of party affiliations, to support the principles herein enunciated.

Died in Parson Kansas.

Lula Gaddis, wife of Mont Gaddis, died in Parsons, Kansas, on June the 14, 1911. She leaves a husband and two dear little children to mourn her loss.

She was borned in Coal county, Illinois, November 2, 1872, and was married to Mont Gaddis at Millshoals, Illinois, December 27, 1903, and they moved to St. Louis, Mo., on the 30, and lived there until August 20, 1904, and then moved from there to McHenry, Ky., and lived there till March 1911 and then went to Parsons, Kan.

On the 9 day of June she thought she had a light chill, but never gave up to go to bed till late that evening and on the morning of the 10 she was much worse and a doctor was called. He called at 6 o'clock the morning of the 10, he said she had bilious fever, and that night she was not very sick, next day she got worse and at noon the doctor was called again, he said she had brain fever and the and every body done all they could do to save her life. The doctor came to see her 27 times in her few days illness.

This is a bright, glad, beautiful, world, fragrant with the odor of flowers. Tuncful with life songs of birds, resplendents with the glories of earth, sea and sky, and yet its attractions now are no doubt unnoticed by me, for grim merciless death have appeared in our midst and snatched from us a loved one. Our skies are hung with black somber clouds curtains our vision is over cast with the gloom of sorrow and every sound that strikes our ears has in it a cadence of despair without the presence of that one who has gone before. The world indeed seems empty and cheerless to us and in our heart there is a dreary dismal aching, void the only consolation that is vouchsafed us is realization of the fact that our beloved is at ease the one upon whom we have lavished our affection is now in that land where the weary cease at rest. Bending over the pen coffin looking at the folded hands which will never clasp ours again in this world gazing upon the closed eyes in which you will never more see. Our image reflects on this our scalding tears fall as we realize that our earthly companion and mothership with us is forever gone and as stated before our only consolation is that, we heard the word from the father's lips, Well Done thou good and faithful servant, enter through into the joys of the Lord.

Our consolation is found in a consideration of the fact that our treasures is in Heaven. The poor worn frame will never more be racked with agonies of pain. Suffering is at one end, but it will only be a little while until we will cross the dark river and join Lula among the host of Angels on the other shore.

"Dr. Miles' Nervine Completely Cured Our Little Boy of Fits."

A family can suffer no greater affliction than to have a child subject to fits or epilepsy. Many a father or mother would give their all to restore such a child to health.

"I am heartily glad to tell you of our little boy who was completely cured of fits. He commenced having them at 10 years of age and had them for four years. I tried three doctors and one specialist but all of them said he could not be cured, but Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills made a complete cure. He is now hale, hearty and gay. It has been three years since he had the last spell. I shall give Dr. Miles' medicines praise wherever I go. You are at liberty to use this letter as you see fit and anyone writing to me I will gladly answer if they enclose stamp for reply."

F. M. BOGUE, Windfall, Ind.

Dr. Miles' Nervine

is just what it is represented to be, a medicine compounded especially for nervous diseases, such as fits, spasms, St. Vitus' dance, convulsions and epilepsy. These diseases frequently lead to insanity or cause weak minds. Dr. Miles' Nervine has proven most effective in relieving these dreaded maladies.

would say to the grieving loved ones:

Weep not for darling Flora,
For she is fast asleep
Safe in the arms of Jesus
You, on the other shore to meet.

As our darling babe from us have gone,

One whom we did adore,
If we live as He would have us,
We'll meet on the other shore.

And there will be great rejoicing,
When Jesus says "well done,"
And we'll march on to glory,
To wear this crown we won.

And as this soul from us has fled
As still our souls will flee,
When gathered 'round that great
White Throne,
Happy, happy we will be.

Let us strive each and every one,
To meet this dear one, who has so early taken her flight. No doubt she is beckoning to father, mother and little brother to come dwell in the land where Jesus reigns.

She leaves a father, mother, brother,
Lee Atha, and a host of friends, and relatives to mourn her death, yet our loss is Heaven's gain, for there is one more angel added to

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

REMEDY FOR WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC

Revelations are Made by Minister at South Bend.

Society Must Adopt Quick Measures for the Protection of Homes.

South Bend, Ind., July 18.—More careful teaching in the home, an aroused public sentiment, a chief of police with a police force that will be on the side of morals and good government and places of refuge for unfortunate women were given as remedies for the awful ruin caused by the white slave traffic in a sermon here. The speaker was Dr. W. H. Hickman, pastor of the Grace Methodist Episcopal church. The talk took the place of his regular evening discourse. It was heard by a large congregation which appeared to be deeply impressed by the pointed remarks and the earnest arraignment of the white slave traffic.

Dr. Hickman took for his subject "Traffic in Girls." He discussed boldly and openly evil practices in vogue at present, and told what he thought was necessary to effectively curb the evil. He took for his text:

"They have given a boy for a harlot, and sold a girl for wine."—Joel iii, 3.

In introducing his subject, Dr. Hickman referred to slavery days.

"One of the blackest chapters in the history of the world," said the minister, "is the coolie trade." White men scoured the coasts of Africa and made inroads to the interior, capturing men, women and children to supply the slave market in America and the islands of the sea. There are roads leading to the interior of Africa that could almost be paved with the skulls of those unfortunate children of Ham, as they perished on water or food on the way to the hips of the coolie trade.

"Hundreds of them perished from time to time, as they were thrown overboard to ease the ship in the time of storm, or enable the captors to flee from pursuit. I saw many, opper colored children of these unfortunate peoples in the rice plantations of Florida and the Carolinas, who had not yet learned the English tongue. We shudder in this day as we read the stories of the coolie trade."

The Scriptures read are prophetic. They refer to the last agonies in the death of the Hebrew nation, as it was represented in the tribe of Judah. Tens captured and sacked Jerusalem, 5,000 miserable people were taken to Babylon, all under 17 years of age were sold and scattered through the western world. The tallest and fittest were reserved to grace the Roman triumph. The old and defective were destroyed on the spot. We think such destruction is impossible, especially in a zone of the so-called Christian nations. We find the black man from physical slavery at fearful cost, and now wonder that it was possible for the institution of slavery to have ever existed by the consent of our fathers."

Dr. Hickman then directed his attention to the white slave traffic.

"If any man will read Clifford Roe's book on the white slave trade, or any one of a half dozen books from social workers in our great cities," he said, "he will be convinced that a traffic in girls is going on among us akin to these black crimes we have referred to. Indeed, it is a slavery more degrading and destructive than ever the black man knew in his bondage for he was protected from some of those unspeakable vices for commercial reasons. These are not statements from a fanatic. Mr. Roe was assistant state's attorney in Chicago for years, and is now president of the American alliance to prevent the traffic in girls."

"Nine hundred men were driven out of Chicago at one time, whose business was to supply the trade of the houses of ill fame. This infamous business is not confined to the great cities. It has its agents all over the country. There isn't a town of any considerable size but what is visited by these agents, and not a village in all the country that hasn't at some time suffered from this infernal traffic. Look over the files of your daily papers and you will see reports of girls leaving home mysteriously, of men involved in scandals, of suicides without clues. If you will get at the bottom of these scandals and ruin you will find in many instances it is the work of the slave panders."

That smooth agents assist in the ruin of girls was the next assertion of the minister, who said: "The agents of this business are generally young men, frequently as handsome young men, and as well dressed as you will find among us. There are women and older men, parties to the business, but the operating agents are ordinarily young men, and shrewd cunning women. The young man will approach the unsuspecting girl in polished ways and pleasing manners, with flattering words.

"Two objects are ordinarily held before them. Marriage and living in ease or an opportunity to make money easy and dress well. All sorts of opportunities are suggested in order to find out what the girl would like. It is very common for a young man to say that he has fallen in love at sight. He works out his plans to marry the girl. Under various pretexts he gets her to go with him to certain places, telling her of his rich father, from whom he is expected to have. In many instances these men do actually marry the women in order to get control of them.

"These agents, like the agents of the coolie business, go where the young people gather, especially the 5 cent theater or show, the dance hall, the parks, the restaurants, the department stores. The most dangerous place for a young girl, or any woman who holds high ideals of womanhood, is the dance hall. There have been gathered to ruin more women from the dance hall than any other center of danger in this country. Once the agent gets a start with the girl, to dance or go to the show, or go riding or walking through the park, he follows up skillfully by going to the soda fountain and later to the annex of the saloon. Drinks are drugged. Reason is destroyed and the awful ruin is at hand.

The girl is in prison, the pastor maintained, if an agent accomplishes his mission.

"Once the girl is lodged in one of these houses it is almost impossible to get away," Dr. Hickman said. "Once the girl is lodged in one of these houses it is almost impossible to get away," Dr. Hickman said. Over the portals of a Roman revelry were crossed this threshold leaves his manhood behind. The girl that crosses the threshold of one of these dens is doomed to a blacker future than Dante ever put in song or Dore in picture.

"The first thing the madam does is to take take her wearing apparel and put on her life badge of her depravity. A bill of expense is entered against the poor victim, which she is never able to discharge. The wretch who brought her there gets a price for her ruin, and frequently draws a weekly wage. If the misbehavior is refractory, or would escape, she is punished. In this den she spends a miserable existence. Influences are kept about her to deaden her conscience and destroy her self-respect. If this poor child has come from a home where virtue was taught her remorse at times is beyond the power to describe.

"These miserable slaves, are often taken from one city to another, in order to destroy all desire for a better life, and to break up all hope of reforms. Think of such a business as this right in our midst, and some men so dull in their sensibilities, and void of the real love of humanity as to make a plea and find excuses for such dens and such an infernal traffic. I offer no apology for these plain words, except the love of humanity, the love of a father, the teaching and conduct of my master, to whom came Magdalene and received compassion, and for whom the most tender, loving words were uttered."

As remedies for the ruin accomplished by the trafficker, the speaker enumerated:

"First, let us have more careful teaching. The home is the drill ground for right character. The girl must be in a large sense her own keeper, and yet we all know, and must take knowledge of the fact, that here are many weak and ill organized homes, out of which you cannot expect good character. No only so, but there is a large per cent of girls that are weak, that believe easily, unsuspecting affectionate children, that do not mean wrong, but are so ill-taught and weak that they become easily the prey of wrong. No man can interpret the Lord's prayer, which was given for our daily bread, and not feel a sense of responsibility to help protect and save the weak.

"Second, let us have an aroused public sentiment and publicity of conditions. There is a sentimental, affected modesty of the part of some people, that shy around discussions that lead to information on this awful business. If the facts were brought before us, public opinion would arise and destroy this business. Some of our newspapers are always ready to inform the public on this kind and kindred topics, so necessary for our moral salvation. But the pulpit and the religious agencies have a larger responsibility.

"Third, let us have a chief of police and a police force that will be on the side of the morals and good

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so GIVES HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Ingredients printed on wrapper.

government and a law abiding. Where ever you have a chief of police tied up with the saloon business, winking at gambling dens, you may be sure there is privilege and graft in the traffic of girls. The chief of police in any city where public sentiment has any moral soundness can suppress and drive out and help break up generally this whole traffic in the bodies and souls of men and women.

"Fourth, let us have places of refuge provided for these unfortunate women. It is a travesty on government and the duties of moral uplift for us to have nothing more to offer the unfortunate woman than for our police judge to say move on; leave the town at once. Have we no responsibility to these unfortunate creatures? They are our daughters. Many of them have been led to ruin in our minds by our fathers, brothers and sons. Have we discharged our duty when we have driven this poor creature to the public highways to carry ruin to other towns and other homes?"

"When these miserable ones find they cannot get away from the dens they commit suicide," said Dr. Hickman. "In the 5,000 victims of vice per year reported by the committee in Chicago, the larger number come from this class of victimized humanity. When they do therefore cry to us for reform and help, as hundreds of them do, it would be expected of the better human nature to respond to this call, not to say Christian teaching, in helping provide doors of hope."

"Our board of health," asserted the minister in conclusion, "will quarantine scarlet fever and diphtheria or any other contagious, dangerous disease, and we support and praise them for these laws. But the unfortunate woman fleeing from death and with death, cannot get away from the depraved, vile wretches without the help Christian civilization is expected to give, and if it does not give should not call itself Christian. All honor to the good people who have made and are making conditions better for the homeless girl and woman in our midst. But there is a larger work to do. The love of humanity, not to say Christian philanthropy, ought to see these opportunities and respond as liberally, at least for the girls and women as for the boys and men. For neither class, however, have we begun to discharge our whole duty in protecting the weak and rescuing the fallen."

Is it Fair.

Did you ever send to Chicago for a bill of hardware and find when it came that you had forgotten 50 cts. worth of nails? Did you send to Chicago for them or did you go to the hardware store and buy them?

Did you ever send away for an advertised special value in lumber or sash and doors and find on receipt of the goods that the mail order house "forgot" some of the essentials? Did you send away for the balance or did you go to the local lumber dealer to get what was missing?

Did you ever solicit a contribution for charity from some land promotion company a thousand miles away or from a mail order house in Chicago, New York or San Francisco? If you have tried it you know it won't work. But you don't hesitate to go after the real estate man, the grocer, the hardware dealer or the lumberman here at home when you have some little money raising scheme to put through. And generally they "come across" without a murmur.

In other words, do you play fair with your friend, the local business man? Or do you use him as a convenience and send your money and your real trade elsewhere?

Every dollar you spend at home adds to the wealth of this community. Every dollar you send away detracts from it. If you are imbued with local as well as national patriotism you will keep your money at home in every case where you can get as great value here as elsewhere. Give our business men a chance.

Base Ball News

Last Saturday Hartford again won another game, when Beaver Dam went down in defeat, with a score of 15 to 9. The game was played on the local lot and witnessed by a large crowd. The line-up of the teams was as follows:

Hartford—Wakeland, 2b; Thomas, 1 f; Carpenter, r f; Hunter, 1b; Robertson, 3b; Taylor, s s; King, c; Elgin, c f; Barnett, p.

Beaver Dam—C. Ament, 2b; M. Taylor, 1 f; H. Plummer, r f; C. Taylor, 1b; N. Taylor, 3b; B. Brown, s s; M. James, c; N. Peters, c f; R. Davis, p.

The score:
Innings 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Hartford 1 4 0 1 2 3 7 0 x 15
B. Dam 0 0 0 2 0 4 2 1 0 9

Singles—Hartford 10; Beaver Dam 7.

Home Runs—For Beaver Dam, N. Taylor and N. Peters. For Hartford, Wakeland, Taylor and Thomas.

Struck out by Barnett 10; by Davis and Taylor 9.

The time of game 1 hour and 55 minutes.

Umpires, Wavy Liles, Beaver Dam, and Otto C. Martin, of Hartford.
Baseball spirit is beginning to get aroused in many of the smaller towns in Western Kentucky. We notice that the Muhlenberg Sentinel has started a baseball department, similar to this one.

The locals gave Al. Barnett, glit edge support Saturday. In one inning there were only three balls pitched by Barnett, and presto! the Locals went to the bat next.

Not only was the support of the players for the Locals good Saturday but so was the rooting by a bevy of young ladies that went to the game in the wagon of the Hartford Mill Co. They were well equipped with horns and strong lungs, and they made some racket. Those in the bunch were: Misses Robbie Barnard and Ruth Thomas, of Madisonville; Hettie Riley, Nora Wedding, Mary Marks, Ruth Riley, Beatrice Haynes and Lela Magan; Messrs. Tice Burns, J. C. Barnard and W. T. Penickton.

Among the visiting fans from Beaver Dam Saturday we were glad to see our old friend Frank Gray, of Friars Point, Miss., who is visiting his parents at Beaver Dam. He is doing well in the South and has a good position in a bank, and added that he was delighted to read our ball dope every week.

The visitors undoubtedly had a jewel of a player in Left Fielder Merle Taylor. He made some of the best plays Saturday ever witnessed by local fans, and everyone was praising his work.

The lid is on in this city on Sunday ball playing and there will be no more of it by anyone for the city dads have passed an ordinance prohibiting it and imposing a heavy fine for violation of the ordinance. However the regular Hartford team has never played a single game here on Sunday.

While Beaver Dam boys went down with a terrible defeat Saturday no one could keep from admiring their jovial manner and happy spirit all through the game, and even when the last inning had been ended they were apparently as happy as when the first had ended. That is the kind of playing that is enjoyed by anyone, and the locals are glad to play with that kind.

LEE STEVENS HAD A HOLE IN HIS BAT SATURDAY.

In the latter part of the game Lee Stevens was substituted by the visitors for N. Peters, the center fielder. It is said that Stevens declared that Barnett could never "saw" him, but he did just the same.

About half of the regular team of the locals will leave today with Co. H to attend the encampment at Onell, near Louisville, and they will be away from home over two Saturdays, and for that reason there will be no game by the locals for two weeks. It is the intention of those who go with the soldiers, however, to get up a match game with some of the other companies at camp.

An effort is being made by Col. Casabier, manager of the Locals, to secure a more convenient diamond. Arrangements have about been completed to get a location in the McHenry meadow, which would be an ideal spot, when worked with a few days.

It is thought that arrangements will be made to get Beaver Dam and McHenry to play here to-morrow afternoon, since half of the Locals will be away from home.

Second baseman Wakeland and Catcher King are two new recruits for Company H, and they will play ball, as well as drill like soldiers at the encampment.

While playing in a practice game Monday afternoon Otto Martin severely sprained his foot, which gave him much pain for a few days.

Col. Casabier got up a mixed team Monday afternoon Otto Martin and Little Colonels. It was too bad, but Petty's aggregation got it put on them badly. Six innings were played and the score was 23 to 7.

Hunter, King and Barnett were the ones who made three base hits Saturday.

The Locals and McHenry played one of the most interesting games of the season Wednesday afternoon here. The score was 5 to 3 in favor of the Visitors, although the score should have been 3 to 3 in the ninth inning. This was conceded by everyone. It was in the third inning that Thorp, of McHenry, was called safe and every one declared he was out. Thorp after the game declared himself that he was out. When Thorp was called safe there were already two outs, and this should have been three outs. After this decision was made two scores were run in.

NOTES ON WEDNESDAY'S GAME.
Hits for McHenry, 8; for the Locals, 7.

Struck out by Pannman and Reynolds 10; by Barnett 12.

Anderson, of McHenry, made a long drive in the outfield in the sixth and made a home run.

Three baggers—Wakeland and Reynolds.

Two baggers—Thomas, King, Kendall and Mitchell.

One base hits—Carpenter, Thomas, N. Taylor 2, Thorp, Kendall, Pannman 2, and Williams.

Errors were made nearly every minute by both teams.

The batting of the Visitors was one of their weak points.

In the fourth inning it was great to see Barnett strike out three men, one after the other, when every base was full. The crowd went wild over Al. and he was the hero.

The support of the Hartford team to Barnett was about the weakest ever put up in a local game.

J. Taylor fell down on the Locals and was not able to do his usual good work. Time after time he made some of the worst plays of the entire game.

Answered.

"Will you allow me to ask you a question?" Interrupted a man in the audience.

"Certainly, sir," said the lecturer. "You have given us a lot of figures about immigration, increase of wealth, the growth of trusts, and all that, said the man. 'Let's see what you know about figures yourself. How do you find the greatest common divisor?"

Slowly and deliberately the orator took a glass of water. Then he pointed his finger straight at the questioner. Lightning flashed from his eyes, and replied in a voice that made the gas jet quiver.

"Advertiser for it, of course, you fool."

The audience cheered and yelled and stamped, and the wretched man who had asked the question crawled out of the hall a total wreck.—Tit-Bits.

Helpless as a Baby.

Valley Heights, Va.—Mrs. Jennie B. Kirby, in a letter from this place, says: "I was sick in bed for nine months, with womanly troubles. I was so weak and helpless, at times, I couldn't raise my head off the pillow I commenced to take Cardui, and I saw it was helping me, at once. Now I can work all day." As a tonic, for weak women, nothing has been found for fifty years, that would take the place of Cardui. Try a bottle to-day. It will surely do you good. B-8
